

/// Re-energizing Your Change Initiatives

Have you ever had your “pet project” or your most important change initiative grind to a halt? Ever had key leadership “change direction” or lose interest in something important to your team? Have you ever found yourself in the middle of a major implementation and realize people are losing interest or beginning to treat the effort as just another “Flavor of the Month”? Studies have shown that 60% - 80% of all change management initiatives fail. Learn how you can achieve a 70%+ success rate at sustaining changes and new ideas for 12 months and longer!

We will examine some of the root causes for participation “burnout” and major failure modes people and teams face as well as some specific tools and techniques that have been proven to work. We will look at things you can improve to get your people excited again about getting things done! We will discuss practical solutions for rejuvenating your initial investment of time and resources in improving your business and your enjoyment of work, life, and the pursuit of the American Dream!
